

"Beautiful as You"

By Rick Phillips

© 2003

I dig your smile on a sunny day
The crazy things you say
Oh, now by the way, have I told you that I love you?
Your freedom inspires me
Your kisses delight me
I wish the world could be as beautiful as you

And as you're dancing the night away
I watch your body sway
Girl I'd just like to say that I need you more than ever
The way you hold me tight until the morning light
Makes me realize that love can still be true

Now there's a million ways to say
I love you night and day
The reason that I stay's elusive more than ever
Girl, I believe you're true and though I've known so few
I wish the world could be as beautiful as you