

”Live The Words”

by David McDougald

© 2001

I really don't have time, to play a silly game today
Lying, cheating, lazy, crazy...I don't flow that way
And I've seen all I want of what you got
And I don't need any day
I've been down that road before
I don't go down there no more to play

What I want to do is get to you and hope you find the way
Raise up your mind
Live the words you say

How can you face yourself?
With all the untruths that fill your mouth show
Only looking out for number one
So where do all the other ones go?
Take your time, think it over
I know I have
And I will tell you so
The truth will take you higher
And this is something everyone should know