Waterband celebrates their new CD and DVD in Maryland

Waterband is pleased to announce the return of “Folkelicfunkpop” when they return to Maryland for three shows on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, January 22, 23 and 24, 2009. Waterband performs as a quartet and ranges as a dynamic acoustic ensemble or as a full blown electric face melting aural assault. Waterband just released their fifth full-length CD entitled “Drops In A Bucket, Vol 1” and second DVD, Waterfest 08, and while receiving consistent airplay through the Continental United States as well as Europe, radio and television appearances they are gearing up for a bright future in 2009.

To celebrate their new CD and DVD, Waterband will perform Thursday at Andy’s Nightclub located at 337 High Street in Chestertown, on Friday at Rams Head Roadhouse located at 1773 Generals Highway in Annapolis and Saturday at the Friendly Inn located at 11074 Frederick Rd in Ellicottville, MD..

Waterband is driven to share their unique brand of “Folkelicfunkpop” to the Cleveland crowd. They have performed over 1000 shows since their inception in 2001 and have recently committed to raising money and awareness for the World Water Crisis by performing a free concert on World Water Day and also hosting and headlining their own festival at Nelsons Ledges Quarry Park called Waterfest. A portion of all their proceeds goes to aid areas in need of clean drinking water. Fans that are interested in not only quality, fun, interactive and inspiring music will also share heightened awareness of the state of the Planet and how they can make a difference. www.waterband.com
